The Impact of Industrial Synchrotron X-ray Powder Diffraction

Wednesday, 20 November 2024 11:45 (15 minutes)

Industry is crucial in the development and utilization of synchrotrons, with expert companies playing a key role in both construction and value creation. Intermediary companies, in particular, facilitate the translation of synchrotron research into tangible benefits for society. This presentation will highlight how these companies enhance the impact of light sources and showcase Momentum Transfer's efforts to revolutionise powder diffraction.
