

Travelling to Stellenbosch

This Documents Gives Additional Overview and Flights & VISA Information For International Travellers

IT IS RECOMMENDED THAT YOU FLY TO CAPE TOWN INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT AND THEN ARRANGE A SHUTTLE TO YOUR HOTEL/GUEST HOUSE IN STELLENBOSCH

The South African People

South Africa is fondly known as the "Rainbow Nation", due to its cultural diversity comprising people of the San (or Bushman), Nguni, Sotho-Tswana, Tsonga, Venda, Indian, Afrikaner, English and mixed origins, as well as immigrant communities from all corners of the world. South Africa is a true melting pot of cultural richness.

The South African people have managed a remarkable transition from a racially divided society to one that is founded on democratic principles. The way South Africans have overcome historical racial divides is lauded throughout the world. The people of South Africa continue to work together to develop and promote their country which recognizes and celebrates difference in diversity of cultures, languages and religion.

Exceptional Land

South Africa has the oldest meteor scar in the world, just across the Vaal River near Parys, called the Vredefort Dome. The meteor plummeted to Earth nearly two billion years ago (Earth is said to be 4.5 billion years old), predating the heavy days of oxygen and multi-celled life. The rocks around Barberton in Mpumalanga are some of the most ancient in the world – over three billion years old.

Because they are also the most accessible such formations, NASA scientists come here to gain an idea of how life might form on distant planets. South Africa also is home to many ancient hominid fossil remains and the area just north of Johannesburg is known as the "Cradle of Humankind".

Where else is an entirely new species being recreated from scratch? The kwagga, an extinct zebra species, vanished in a frenzy of hunting in the 1800s, but after finding that the DNA is almost identical to the common Burchell's zebra, the species is being brought back from beyond the brink by careful breeding of stripe-challenged zebras.

Blyde River Canyon is the third largest canyon in the world and the largest green one. The Grand Canyon in the US is the biggest. South African grasslands have 30 species per square kilometre, greater than the biodiversity of rainforests.

The Cape Peninsula has greater floral diversity than the whole of Europe. South Africa has pioneered the principle of Transfrontier Parks in Africa far beyond the simple Waterton-Glacier model, and is a primary agent in focusing world attention on sustainability and the need for trans-frontier parks that preserve our continent's richness for all future generations.

South Africa pioneered heart transplant surgery in the world. South Africa leads the world in diamond production, and is a world leader in precious metal supplies - gold, platinum, palladium, vanadium and of course many other metals such as iron, chrome, tin, zinc and copper.

People and Culture

Our country is home to two of the world's most profoundly compassionate philosophies - Ubuntu and Gandhi's notion of "passive resistance" (Satyagraha), which he developed while living in South Africa. Ubuntu stresses the fact that all people are fundamentally connected; that we are human because of each other: "I am because you are".

At least half of South Africa's population is now officially urbanized. Interestingly though, a huge trend is developing where young urban families move from big cities to rural towns to live life on a more sustainable scale and get in touch with the Earth, simultaneously revitalizing the countryside. The Cederberg Mountain range in the Western Cape is called the biggest art gallery in the world, thanks to hundreds upon hundreds of ancient San/Bushman paintings. Bushman paintings make up the earliest rock art on the planet - some are tens of thousands of years old.

South Africans

The country is a rich tapestry of European and African peoples blended into a single whole, but retaining the richness of their heritage and past within the mould of a vision for the future.

Apart from great musicians like Hugh Masekela, Miriam Makeba and Johnny Clegg, our country boasts poets and writers like Laurens van der Post and Credo Mutwa, to visionaries for peace and Nobel peace-prize winners.

Tasty Tidbits

There are some South African specialties that visitors to our shores won't find anywhere else in the world. Here's a taste of what to expect:

Kingklip - no other country consumes as much kingklip as South Africans do. A sturdy fish with beautiful flakes, it absorbs flavours well and is a local delicacy.

Karoo lamb - by all accounts most chefs agree that we have something special in Karoo lamb. The animals feed on fragrant shrubs and wild herbs that lend the meat its unique flavour. Grilled, gourmet-style, barbecued or basted, it's a sure-fire winner.

Biltong and boerewors - these must be our national icons in the food arena. In the early days before refrigeration the Dutch preserved excess meat from the hunt by rubbing in with salt, pepper, coriander, vinegar and saltpetre and hanging it out today. Meat treated in this manner lasted indefinitely as long as it was kept dry. Boerewors is a robust farmer's sausage sold in coiled ribbons. The meat is spicy and redolent of coriander and sizzles and splatters companionably when slapped on the coals or dropped into a hot skillet.

Bobotie - a traditional Cape Malay dish of spiced mince.

Braai vleis - at the heart of the South African outdoor life - the ubiquitous barbecue. Try "pap and wors", two unusual combinations that are uniquely and quintessentially South African.

Samoosas - these triangular savoury pastries are the Indian South African answer to the English meat pie (although we have those too). The filling can be made of either chilli-laden mince or a spicy vegetable mix. So what's to drink around South Africa?

Wine and sparkling wines - where you can expect to be truly spoiled. South African wines are excellent and very, very affordable when compared to overseas products. Try the robust local reds (like Merlot, Cabernet Sauvignon) and Pinotage (a variety unique to this country). Order a bottle of local bubbly like Cap Classique or Krone Borealis. Fermented in the bottle in the French tradition, it makes for light, easy drinking with a festive air.

Facts about South Africa

South Africa has three international airports: Cape Town, Johannesburg and Durban. Other airports include Port Elizabeth, East London, Bloemfontein, Kimberley, George, Pilanesberg and Lanseria.

The South African currency is the Rand, which is made up of 100 cents. Notes issued: R10, R20, R50, R100 and R200. Coins issued: 5c, 10c, 20c, 50c, R1, R2 and R5. Foreign currency can be exchanged at commercial banks and at various foreign exchange bureaux. Banks are open from 09:00 - 15:30 weekdays and 08:30 - 11:00 on Saturdays. Most banks have Automatic Teller Machines (ATMs), which are open 24 hours a day for statements, cash withdrawals and deposits. South Africa has a modern and sophisticated banking and commercial system and most shops and hotels will accept all major international credit cards. South Africa has adopted a Value Added Tax (VAT) system of 14% on purchases and services. Foreign visitors to South Africa reclaim their VAT on purchases if they have spent more than R250.

Shopping and business hours: Most shops in the city centres and suburbs are open between 09:00 and 18:00 on weekdays and until 14:00 on Saturdays and Sundays. Generally major shopping malls usually open at 09:00 and close at 18:00. South African Time is set at GMT +2. There are no time zone differences within South Africa and the country has not adopted a daylight time saving system in summer. Cellular phones (mobile phones) can be rented at the airport or at Visitor Information Centres. Blue public phones work with the use of coins, while green public phones work with local Telkom phone cards. International roaming is possible depending on your service provider.

There are 11 official languages in SA. English is the language of administration and is widely spoken. Other languages are: Afrikaans, Ndebele, Northern Sotho, Southern Sotho, Swazi, Tsonga, Tswana, Venda, Xhosa and Zulu.

Historic Heritage

Being a premier tourist destination, Stellenbosch conjures up unique images. History is reflected in many of its neo-Dutch, Georgian and modern Victorian architecture, which encompasses simple lines, fine detail and elegant proportions. Oak trees bear witness to its proud and dignified heritage. These old trees set against the white walls of its many old buildings diffuse the heat of summer and transform the streets into soft, shady avenues.

The town on the banks of a river in the premier wine producing Jonkershoek Valley is encircled by majestic mountains. There is easy access to nearby fruit farms, mountain ranges and neighbouring rustic towns. Stellenbosch is the ideal location from which to explore the Winelands, Cape Town, the Peninsula and the many tourist attractions the Western Cape has to offer.

Stellenbosch Wine Route - "The Heart of the Winelands"

Stellenbosch has the oldest Wine Route in the country and, with over 130 farms and cellars, it attracts wine-lovers and tourists from around the world. The wines of the region are of a high standard and regularly win International awards.

Many farms have been passed down through generations and most Estates have beautifully maintained homes and gardens that are open to visitors. In the past few years foreign investors have acquired farms and have introduced new ideas and blends that are greatly appreciated by the wine loving public.

Wine tours are a must for visitors and offer a choice of old charm or modern tourist orientated estates catering for large groups. Farms are surrounded by the natural beauty of some of the most spectacular mountains of the Cape. With the vineyards as a backdrop the ever changing colour of the leaves constantly transform the landscape.

Harvest time normally starts in late January and ends in March.

Academic Stellenbosch

With roots going back to 1866, Stellenbosch University is one of the oldest universities in South Africa. A century-long tradition of quality teaching and research has ensured the University a place among the finest academic institutions in Africa.

Stellenbosch University has a resident population of more than 18,000 students - postgraduate students make up more than one third of the student population. The academic year runs from early February to mid-December. The Stellenbosch Campus of the Boland College for Further Education & Training was started as a Technical College in 1918. Practical courses are offered mainly for the service industry and in particular the hospitality industry.

Location - Tranquility

A town of oak lined streets with historic white Cape Dutch buildings, Stellenbosch owns parks and gardens which contribute to its tranquility and beauty. Stellenbosch has a small-town aura with a leisurely lifestyle in an atmosphere where art, music and theatre reign. The magnificent hills surrounding the town offer unequalled opportunities for hiking, mountaineering, cycling, jogging, hang-gliding, picnicking and other sports and recreational activities. The side-walk cafes and friendly meet-&-eat pubs add to the relaxed pleasures of the town.

Weather and Flora

Surrounded by mountains, the region boasts a mild Mediterranean climate throughout the year. Balmey summer days with temperatures between 22° C and 34° C lengthen into 15 hours of sunlight by mid-summer. During winter the day temperatures rarely drop below 16° C.

The countryside remains beautiful throughout the changing seasons. Some say it is best in winter when the Winelands are transformed by rain into a nature lover's paradise - 'Champagne' clear and sparkling days follow the rain.

Proteas, of which there are some 400 species, are an important part of the region's flora, as are yellowwood trees, wild plum and Cape ash. Surprisingly, the hundreds of oaks are not indigenous to the area, but have nevertheless become synonymous with this Town of Oaks.

The Good Life

Theatres provide a wide variety of entertainment to suit all tastes. Outdoor theatre - the Oude Libertas and Spier amphitheatres. The Dorp Street, HB Thom and Breugel theatres have year round performances of professional and amateur theatre.

Classical and choral musical performances are well publicised and performed mainly at the Conservatoire of Music at the University with the main Two-Week festival of Music & Art held annually at the end of September.

Eco and Nature

Hiking

Stellenbosch has a lot to offer for the outdoor enthusiast. The Jonkershoek mountains form the backdrop for our hiking trails. The trail starts on the slopes of the Papegaaiberg and takes the hiker through a series of "koppies" (hills) and ridges, through forest plantation, vineyards and olive groves in what must be one of the most scenic and historic farming districts in our country. Trail details: 12 km, 16 km, 24 km. The Jonkershoek Nature Reserve hike in the lovely Jonkershoek Nature Reserve. Assegaaibosch Nature Reserves.

History & Culture

Toy and Miniature Museum

The Museum is housed in the old Rhenish Missionary Parsonage on the corner of Market and Herte Street. It consists of a splendid collection of antique dolls, dolls' house furniture, other old toys and a large model railway lay-out which covers nearly 50 square meters and contains scenes which suggest the town of Stellenbosch, parts of the central Karoo and the Cango Caves. Other popular displays in the Museum are the fascinating miniature rooms with their finely detailed furniture and fittings all built in 1:12 scale.

Shopping

Stellenbosch is a vibrant town and boasts all the shops and malls of a large city but one can never escape the unique atmosphere that is synonymous with this great town. A large variety of curio shops are scattered around the town, awaiting the visitor making his/her way through the streets enjoying the many street cafes. You will also find street vendors and a number of antique shops, where Cape Dutch pieces can be bought. It is truly a great experience walking the streets of Stellenbosch and discovering all it has to offer.

Special Interest

Wine lands

The Stellenbosch Winelands offer the visitor many exciting activities. One can taste wines at some of the best wine farms in South Africa. Other activities include, a visit to a Lion Park, Butterfly World, Crocodile Farm, Animal Zone, interacting with cheetahs (Spier Estate) Horse riding, Strawberry Picking.

Animals

You can go and visit the Lion Park, Butterfly World, Crocodile Farm, Animal Zone, interacting with cheetahs (Spier Estate) or go for a Horse riding.

University Museum

The University Museum has two divisions. The Sasol Art Museum houses impressive collections including 19th- and 20th-century artworks and an irreplaceable African collection in the Anthropology Section and a documented history of the University. Various exhibitions of works selected from the permanent collections are held annually. Contemporary artists also exhibit on occasion. Other activities: workshops, lectures, music concerts. The University Art Gallery focuses on South African art and presents around 10 exhibitions each year.

Village Museum

A unique open-air Museum in the centre of Stellenbosch consisting of four period houses, namely Schreuderhuis (1690- 1720), Blettermanhuis (c.1789), Grosvenor House (1800 -1820) and the O M Berghhuis (1830 - 1870). It depicts the way in which people built and furnished their homes as well as the clothes they wore. It also includes the old Police Station complex in which the new Millennium Exhibition, The Story of Stellenbosch 200 000 B C to 2000 A D, will be housed.

Township Experience

The greater Stellenbosch offers excellent opportunities for the visitor looking for a cultural, or traditional experience. Kayamandi, Cloetesville, Idas Valley and Jamestown, are vibrant townships, where food, crafts and genuine African hospitality can be experienced. The cultivation of strawberries originates from Jamestown.

Arts and Crafts

A well established arts and craft community has been founded in Stellenbosch and regular street markets take place during the year. The development of traditional craft in the townships, makes this an exciting new market. Combined with the local well-established crafters, a large variety is available to the visitor.

Culinary Delights

A spectacular array of restaurants provide all-day and night sustenance to the tired and adventurous traveler. Restaurants cater to those wishing to experience traditional country cuisine of the area, the hearty meats of Africa of fusion cooking inspired by the many communities that are found throughout South Africa today. Local produce include sumptuous wild mushrooms, game, organic vegetables and the local "waterblommetjie" – Afrikaans for water flower – which is harvested from dams in the vicinity and transformed into the most wonderful of stews.

Stellenbosch boasts three of the Top 10 Restaurants in South Africa 2009 – as rated by Eat Out Magazine. One of the restaurants was ranked in the Top 100 Restaurants in the World by The S. Pellegrino World's Best Restaurants 2009.

Besides the restaurants, the popular coffee culture has well and truly reached Stellenbosch. And visitors seem keen to join the locals in sitting under the oak trees at one of the coffee shops in the centre of town watching the people and the time go by.

Wellness

Stellenbosch now has various options in this category and offers services ranging from complete release from stress and strain or for a healthier level of fitness. With the magnificent surroundings, excellent food and wine, its would be a natural extension to complete the overall Stellenbosch experience.

INTERNATIONAL FLIGHTS TO AND FROM CAPE TOWN AND JOHANNESBURG, SOUTH AFRICA - ALL YOU NEED TO KNOW

Delegates to Cape Town mostly arrive and depart by air. Once on the ground, getting around is relatively simple and convenient, with taxi and hire-cars (and hotel shuttles) being the preferred modes of transport for international travellers. Johannesburg, Durban and Cape Town have modern airports with facilities to match. Apart from shops and restaurants, international arrival halls have banks and foreign exchange outlets. Lounges are available for business-class travellers. All of the airports offer wireless Internet (WIFI) access throughout the building or designated "hot spots" where coverage exists. There are WIFI facilities at both the International and Domestic Terminals at Cape Town International Airport. Public telephones, which operate with either coins or phone cards, are found in all terminals. In the International Terminal there are cellular (mobile) telephone rental outlets. There is one outlet in Domestic Arrivals. Cellular telephone coverage is available across the Western Cape.

The Cape Town International Convention Centre and other conference venues and hotels in the Cape Town central business district are a 20-minute drive from Cape Town International Airport. While a number of international and national carriers service Cape Town International Airport direct with the bulk of international carriers flying into Johannesburg. Cape Town is a two-hour domestic flight from Johannesburg and on average there are flights every half hour between the two cities with a variety of domestic carriers.

Departing passengers should allow at least two and a half hours check-in time for all international flights. An hour and a half is normally adequate for domestic check-in and this will allow for sufficient time for parking and check in processes. Foreign visitors leaving South Africa may claim back Value Added Tax on purchases from the VAT refund administrator at Cape Town International Airport. The goods and proof of purchase receipt have to be shown to the administrator before check-in.

TRAVEL TO AND WITHIN CAPE TOWN AND THE WESTERN CAPE

CAPE TOWN INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT

Frequent travellers to Cape Town will know that substantial progress has been made with the new terminal development- known as 'Terminal 2010' at Cape Town International Airport, as the construction forms part of the preparations for the FIFA World Cup to be held in South Africa. Scheduled for completion by the end of this year (2009), the final cost of the terminal will be about R1.5 billion.

Among other obvious upgrades with a 2010 focus will be an elevated roadway similar to OR Tambo International Airport, a 4,000 bay multi-storey parkade, new aircraft parking stands, air-bridges, a retail shopping mall and a new, state-of-the-art CCTV system, enabling improved security and safety at the airport.

The airport's drastic facelift is part of a R5.2 billion cash injection into the infrastructural developments of the country's airports.

BANKS

There is an ABSA bank, a bureau de change and an ATM in the International Terminal accessible to both arriving and departing passengers with another ABSA bank located at the restricted area only accessible to passengers leaving the country as well as the Master Currency.
