

Contribution ID: 342

Type: Poster

Effective Interaction of Bosons and Fermions in the Non-Commutative Plane

In non-commutative quantum mechanics position space becomes fuzzy. This has implications for the way particles interact. We show that the effective interaction between fermions and bosons is modified, leading to an apparent violation of Pauli's exclusion principle.

Primary author: Mr HAFVER, Andreas (Stellenbosch University)

Co-author: Prof. SCHOLTZ, Frederik (NITheP)

Presenter: Mr HAFVER, Andreas (Stellenbosch University)

Track Classification: Track G - Theoretical and Computational Physics