

Contribution ID: 104

Type: Presentation

Determination of shape and size of particles in porous media using tomography imaging

The shape and size of particles are used in prediction of permeability (fluid conductivity) in porous media. This talk demonstrates the capability of a neutron/X-ray tomography imaging system in determination of the shape and the size of particles non-destructively.

Primary author: Mr NSHIMIRIMANA, Robert (NECSA)

Co-authors: Mr DE BEER, Frikkie (NECSA); Mr MABUTI, Radebe (NECSA)

Presenter: Mr NSHIMIRIMANA, Robert (NECSA)

Track Classification: Track F - Applied and Industrial Physics