

Contribution ID: 129

Type: Presentation

Laser Cooling and Trapping of Ultra-cold Rubidium Atoms

An experimental setup for laser cooling and trapping of neutral rubidium atoms is being developed. A three dimensional optical molasses in a Maxwell gradient magnetic field is used. The effects of the trap parameters on the number of trapped atoms will be investigated. The current status and recent results are presented.

Primary author: Mr RIGBY, Charles (Laser Research Institute, Stellenbosch University)

Presenter: Mr RIGBY, Charles (Laser Research Institute, Stellenbosch University)

Track Classification: Track C - Lasers, Optics and Spectroscopy