

Contribution ID: 157

Type: Presentation

VLBI amplitude calibration for circular polarisation measurement

The two main opposing SiO maser polarisation theories can be tested by comparing the circular polarisation of the $v=1 J=1-0$ and $v=1 J=2-1$ SiO maser lines. This requires accurate measurements of the circular polarisation. The spectral line VLBI amplitude calibration method is investigated in light of this requirement.

Primary author: Ms RICHTER, Laura (Rhodes University)

Co-authors: Prof. KEMBALL, Athol (University of Illinois); Prof. JONAS, Justin (Rhodes University)

Presenter: Ms RICHTER, Laura (Rhodes University)

Track Classification: Track D1 - Astrophysics